

Vitaphone Now Being Installed In the Broadway

Apparatus That Synchronizes Motion Pictures and Sound Being Installed at Cost of $25,000—Places Theatre on Par With Big Theatres Throughout the Country.

At a cost of $25,000 the Broadway Theatre management is having a Vitaphone and movie-tone apparatus installed in the theatre which will be ready for operation on Monday, May 7, when Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer" will be the attraction for the entire week. The installation of this apparatus places the Broadway Theatre on a par with all of the big theatres in the country.

The Vitaphone is an apparatus that synchronizes motion pictures and sound perfectly. It comes to the public as the result of years of research by the Western Electric Company and the Bell Telephone Laboratories together with the efforts of the Vitaphone Corporation. It is a specially designed apparatus that registers electrical vibrations—music, singing, etc. The music so registered is reproduced by another apparatus installed in the theatre or auditorium and operated from the projection booth. The Vitaphone reproducing apparatus is as easy to operate as the ordinary motion picture projector. If the film breaks, there is no interference with the accuracy of synchronization. The sound register is not controlled by the film itself.

"Talking movies" have come to stay in the amusement field and for that reason the Broadway Theatre management decided to install the apparatus in order to give the amusement loving public of the city the best that the amusement field had to offer. The opening attraction—Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer"—has played all of the big movie houses in the country and has made a big hit wherever shown.

Kill Girl Because She Screamed

Theatre Usher Who Screamed at Sight of Gun in Chicago Theatre Cashier's Cage Shot in Abdomen—Gunsman Get $1,500.

Chicago, April 30 (AP)—The slaying of women has been added to the blood and terror repertoire of Chicago gunmen.

They slew 17 year old Pearl Eggerston last night as she covered in the cashier's cage of the Ritz theatre in suburban Berwyn; slew her because she screamed at the sight of eyes that stared through oval masks, and guns that poked at her from outside the glass wall.

An Army automatic roared and the little usher fell. The man with the pistol and his companion with a sawed-off shotgun opened the door to the ticket booth, stepped over the girl's body and over the cage of the cashier, Miss Gertrude Plante, who had fainted, and scooped up $1,500 of the theatre's receipts.

Then using their guns to hold back 60 persons in the ticket line, they walked to the curb where a companion waited in an automobile bearing a New York license and each fired a shot in the direction of the crowd before they leaped into the machine and disappeared.

Miss Eggerston had just gone to the cashier's cage for a chat with Miss Plante, who is 18.

The robbers' car drew up at the curb and the two masked men ran to the ticket booth. They pointed their weapons at the girls and told them to "keep your trap shut and give us the money."

When the Eggerston girl screamed, the Army automatic spoke and both girls slumped to the floor of the narrow cage; Miss Eggerston with a wound in her abdomen which cost her life before she could be taken to a hospital, and Miss Plante in a faint.

Several witnesses later described them as men of about 27 years of age and of medium height.

A portion of the New York license number on the car was given to police as "9-N-425."

Busy Program For Methodists

Kansas City, April 30 (AP)—Semi-official assemblies today occupied delegates to the Quadrennial General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church which opens formally tomorrow to continue until May 29.

In outlining work before the conference, Bishop E. L. Waldorf of Kansas City said that issues due for discussion included abolition of war, promotion of universal peace and prevention of crime. He said that discussion of affairs pertaining to activities within the church probably would include consideration of a plan to limit the tenure of office of bishops, election of district superintendents, pension plans and promotion of general publicity. Bishops now are appointed for life, or until they reach the age of 72.

Europe Prepares For May Day

Paris Promises Lively Demonstration by Communists, But Other Cities Do Not Anticipate Trouble of Any Magnitude.

Paris, April 30 (AP)—The "Red Belt" of Paris promises to be the most lively spot in Europe tomorrow as far as May Day labor demonstrations are concerned.

French Communists have declared they will have "A Real Affair" for the first time since 1920 when a number of persons were killed and many injured in a clash between police and radical demonstrators who attempted to force an entrance into the Chamber of Deputies.

On the other hand M. Chiappe, prefect of police, assured the people of Paris that if there is any rough work it will not last long.

With the possible exception of Brussels and Warsaw, the rest of Europe expects to see the laboring classes enjoy one long holiday punctuated with parades, brass bands, oratory and "hot dog" sandwiches.

In Brussels, the central committee of the Syndicated Workers of Belgium has issued an appeal to workers to denounce the "Capitalistic powers, and protest against the high cost of living and the slow rise of wages."

Minor Clashes in Poland.

Police in Poland are prepared for minor clashes between the Socialists and Communists tomorrow but expect no serious difficulties. The bulk of Polish people will observe the occasion as a grand holiday.

The Socialists seem to have the upper hand in Austria. Viennese workers will demonstrate for world peace and disarmament with little likelihood of interference from Communists, their traditional enemies.

Mussolini has turned thumbs down on the observance of May Day even as a holiday, having suffered it in 1923 and replaced it with the annual celebration of the foundation of Rome on April 21.

General Holiday in Germany.

May Day celebrations in Germany have been singularly free from rioting and the police expect little trouble. Tomorrow's big event in Berlin will be a gigantic out-of-doors mass meeting on the Treptower-Weise, a huge picnic ground in the southeastern outskirts of the city. Only Saxony and the free states of Hamburg and Bremen, where the Socialist governments are, or were in power, have designated May 1 as a legal holiday, but throughout Germany the wheels of industry will stop just the same.

Tomorrow will not be a general holiday in England and will be observed by only a small minority of the laboring class and a few radicals.

Demonstrations by workers' organizations have been suspended in Spain by Primo De Rivera, dictator-prime minister, since he and his military associates seized power in 1923. However, workers generally will make holiday. Union pickets will be held in Madrid and Primo De Rivera has consented to receive a delegation who will present demands for improving working conditions.

In Norway, Sweden and Denmark tomorrow will be a holiday but with few demonstrations.

Lectures in Russia.

In Russia, with the opposition definitely sidetracked, preparations have been made to make tomorrow the most popular holiday since the October revolution. Hereofore May Day has been celebrated mostly by workers, Red Guards and young communists, but tomorrow a supreme effort will be made to popularize the holiday with the peasants. To give the various meetings dramatic aspect, lectures will be made from public platforms in Moscow by men and women who have spent part of their lives in Czarist jails or who have felt the sting of the Cossacks' knout. The militia and police throughout Russia will join in the demonstration to popularize the Soviet system, leaving just enough men to patrol the streets.

GREAT LAKES TRAFFIC STARTS FOR SEASON

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 30 (AP)—Downbound Great Lakes passage yesterday got a start for the season with the exceptionally warm day aiding the situation. The steamer Lake Chelan made the first break and experienced no difficulty through the lower river and Mud Lake.

The upbound traffic is still at a standstill and the ice in Whitefish Bay still solid.

The Steamer North Star arrived at the Soo late yesterday. Three ships are here waiting until the ice in Whitefish Bay disappears.

Moonlight and Novelty Dance.

A moonlight and novelty dance will be held in the armory on Wednesday evening, May 2, under the auspices of the non-coms of Battery B, 156th Field Artillery, and the armory corps of Kingston Post, American Legion. Refreshments will be on sale during the evening. Music will be furnished by Meisenholder's orchestra. This will be the second of a series of dances which the two organizations plan to run during the summer.

Blanche Brown Fined $10.

Blanche Brown, a negroess, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Mary Brandon, another negroess, who charged Blanche with using vile and indecent language. This morning in police court after a trial Blanche was found guilty and was fined $10 by Judge Shufeldt.

Mrs. Elmendorf Seeks Divorce

Mrs. Frances E. Elmendorf Has Brought Suit Against Her Husband, Harry B. Elmendorf for Divorce—Suit Up for Hearing in Houghkeepsie.

The Poughkeepsie Evening Star of Saturday has this to say regarding the suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Frances E. Elmendorf against her husband, Harry B. Elmendorf.

Mrs. Frances E. Elmendorf of Kingston, central figure in a $20,000 suit for alienation of affections brought by her husband Harry B. Elmendorf of Kingston, against Dr. George W. Ross of Port Ewen, brought suit for divorce against her husband before Justice Morschauer in Supreme Court this morning. The alienation suit brought by the husband was one of the sensations of Ulster county last year.

This morning's hearing was one of the speediest ever conducted here. It was agreed by stipulation of attorneys, to enter on the record that the defendant husband admits all the allegations of his wife's complaint except the allegation of adultery, which is denied.

Then the hearing was adjourned to Newburgh, to be heard in chambers by Justice Morschauer at the convenience of the court, attorneys and litigating parties. When the case is resumed, it will be thrashed out in trial whether the defendant husband, who was successful in his alienation suit against Port Ewen's prominent physician, committed adultery.

Andrew J. Cook is attorney for Mrs. Elmendorf and William Brinlier represents the defendant.

Elmendorf sued Dr. Ross for $50,000, alleging that the Port Ewen physician alienated the affections of Mrs. Elmendorf from her husband. The case went to trial in Kingston and Mrs. Elmendorf was awarded a verdict of $13,000. Dr. Ross appealed the case and was granted a new trial by the Appellate Division.

But the case was never re-tried, as a settlement was reached out of court without trial, the amount of the settlement being kept secret.

Inability of one of Mrs. Elmendorf's witnesses to appear for today's hearing, necessitated the adjournment.

The appearance of the plaintiff, Mrs. Elmendorf, becoming garbed in a fur coat, almost fooled the court. "Are both parties over 21?" Justice Morschauer asked attorneys.

"Yes, Your honor," they responded. "The plaintiff, too?" he persisted. "Oh yes," said Mr. Cook. "Well," said Justice Morschauer, "she doesn't look it, but then you can't ever tell these days."

Double Parking Costs Youth $10

Osterhoudt Parked His Car in Center of Wall Street for Half an Hour Saturday Afternoon—Other Cases in Police Court.

Henry B. Osterhoudt, a young man residing at 21 Lounsbury Place, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Officer Bowser on Wall street. The youth had parked his car in the center of the street and left it there for half an hour. This morning he gave no reason for parking his car outside of another car on a busy street, and was fined $10 by Judge Shufeldt. He paid his fine.

Joseph S. Cummings of Bearsville was arrested on North Front street on Saturday afternoon charged with public intoxication. He was given suspended jail sentence of ten days provided he return to Bearsville.

Constance Golsk was arrested by Officer Fatum on Saturday evening. Constance is charged with assault in the third degree in hitting one Benjamin Winnie, an elderly man, over the head with a beer glass at 117 North Front street. This morning the hearing was adjourned to Tuesday morning.

Abram Gardner was arrested Sunday for panhandling on East Strand. He was sentenced to ten days in the county jail.

Two Women Hurt In Car Accidents

John W. Barton of 359 Foxhall avenue reported to the police department Saturday evening that his car had struck Mrs. Carrie Van Steenburgh of 109 Wall street at St. James and Fair streets, knocking her down. She was taken to Dr. Snyder's office where it was found she was injured about the head and right hip and her leg was bruised.

Saturday evening while Charles Pugliese of East Kingston was driving his Ford car through East Cluster street he reported to the police that his car was struck by another car at the intersection of Houghkeepsie avenue. Mrs. Pugliese, who was riding with her husband, was injured and their car badly damaged. The driver of the other car left the scene in the excitement and his name was not ascertained. Mr. Pugliese reported that the license number of the other car was 5X-5795.

France Endorses Premier Poincare

Will Have At Least 100 Majority in Next Chamber of Deputies—Several Successful Radical Deputies Now in Jail.

Paris, April 30 (AP)—France has endorsed Premier Raymond Poincare and his policy of stabilizing the franc by assuring him a majority of at least 100 in the next Chamber of Deputies.

With full results of the balloting of the last two Sundays completed today, the moderate supporters of Poincare had 306 seats in the new house, or 45 more than in the former one. The combined Socialists, Radicals and Communists captured 257 seats as against 255 in the preceding chamber. A large part of the radicals were regarded as certain to vote with the Poincare union government.

The radicals lost at least a dozen seats and Leon Blum, leader of the Socialist party and an international figure, lost his seat to a Communist pastry cook, Jacques Duclos.

The principal victims of the battle of the ballots were the Communists, who lost nearly a half a dozen seats. The famous "Red Belt" of Paris today was regarded as a thing of the past, Jean Garchery, Albert Fournier, Valliant Couffier, and Andre Metry, who is now in prison, being among the leaders who met defeat.

Elected Although in Jail.

Three of the Communists who managed to hold their seats, Jacques Doriot, Jacques Duclos and Andre Metry, are also in jail "prisoners of the state," as the Communist organ Humanite puts it.

They are not the only elected deputies behind the bars. Two Alsatiens, Dr. Ricklin and M. Rosse, returned on the autonomous ticket, will be placed on trial tomorrow as Colmar on charges of plotting against the security of the state.

Paul Painleve, minister of war, who failed to get a majority in the first round election, won by an overwhelming majority.

There are 612 seats in the new chamber as compared with 584 in the former and moderates apparently captured most of the new mandates. From previous declarations of Premier Poincare, it was assumed that, assured of a majority, he would start at once toward stabilizing the franc.

CENTRAL NEW YORK DAMAGED BY STORM.

Rochester, N. Y., April 30 (AP)—An army of linemen today struggled to untangle a snarl of telephone and telegraph wires brought down by the post-winter snow storm raging in central New York yesterday. High winds and the snow, which fell for twenty-four hours, brought down thousands of feet of wire in the vicinity of Rochester, cutting off from communication several hundred telephone subscribers.

The blanket of snow extended up into northern counties, although the fall resulted in little damage there. Moderating weather yesterday afternoon converted the snowfall into rain and brought some apprehension of flood conditions. Streams already were slightly above normal due to recent heavy rains.

HELPLESS STEAMER ADRIFT ON ATLANTIC.

Norfolk, Va., April 30 (AP)—Three government craft which have been playing a game of catch on and let go with the Shipping Board steamer Western Ocean off the Virginia Capes for a week were fighting heavy seas in an effort to get another tow line to her today.

Twice before lines had been attached to the drifting ship, but storms intervened and parted them after she had been towed from 59 to 109 miles nearer shore. Last night the craft, which has a crew of 34 aboard, was reported drifting 380 miles from the cape.

The ships now with the helpless craft are the Coast Guard cutters Mascoulin and Carrabassett and the Navy tug Keywaydin.

NOTED JESUIT PREACHER RENOUNCES PRIESTHOOD

Vienna, April 30 (AP)—Dr. Anton Stonner, one of the most famous Jesuit fathers in Austria and because of his eloquence and piety called the Second Savonarola, has renounced the priesthood to live the life of a private citizen in Munich.

His sudden repudiation of strict Jesuitical vows and his hurried departure for Munich have completely mystified both the laity and clergy.

Some believed a profound disappointment in life and a lack of confidence in human kind prompted the noted priest's act. For fifteen years every church in Austria where he preached was so packed that the streets were impassable.

SILVER WEDDING TURNED INTO HONEYMOON BY SON.

Paris, April 30 (AP)—The big silver wedding anniversary party for which Mr. and Mrs. Walter May brought three score of their friends all the way from Pittsburgh to Paris has been turned into a honeymoon.

The May's 24 year old son, Walter, Jr., grasped the festive opportunity to bring his fiancée to Paris along with the guests whom his father invited, and married her here. She was Miss Florence M. Lebowitz, before her marriage last Friday, the day of the May's anniversary.

California May Decide Nominee

Tuesday's Primary Election, With Three Candidates, May Be Deciding Factor in Choosing Democratic Presidential Candidate.

San Francisco, April 30 (AP)—California voters tomorrow will cast their ballots in a Presidential primary which many observers predict may prove the deciding factor in selection of the Democratic nominee at the national party convention in Houston.

Three Democrats are seeking the support of the state's 26 delegates. They are Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, and Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana.

The Republicans have only one candidate—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, to whom the state's 29 delegates will be pledged.

A prohibition candidate, Daniel A. Poling of New York, will be on the ballot, although he asked that his name be withdrawn after the ballots had been printed.

Prohibition has been the principal question involved in the Democratic campaigns. Religious issues also have been injected.

McAdoo-Smith Fight Renewed.

The bitter struggle that took place between William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and Governor Smith for the Presidential nomination at New York city in 1924, has been carried into the California primary. Old friendships and political alliances have turned to animosity, and the man who nominated McAdoo in 1924, former United States Senator James D. Phelan of California, now is supporting the candidacy of Smith.

The bitterness between the factions was expressed when Phelan declared he was sorry he nominated McAdoo in 1924.

McAdoo leads the dry delegation pledged to Walsh, who also is backed by the Anti-Saloon League forces and the Woodrow Wilson Democrats.

Bowers To Be Keynote.

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Claude G. Bowers, editorial writer on the New York Evening World, was selected today to deliver the keynote speech at the Democratic National Convention. His name was proposed by Mrs. Leroy Springs, of South Carolina. His selection was unanimous.

Bowers is a former Indianan and the author of a number of books built around historical events in the early days of the American Republic.

Democrats Plan Convention Slate

Franklin D. Roosevelt May Make Nominating Speech for Governor Smith—New York Delegates Picked for Committees.

New York, April 30 (AP)—The New York Times said today that supporters of Governor Smith had about decided to have Franklin D. Roosevelt, who placed Governor Smith in nomination at the 1924 convention, perform the same role at Houston.

Mayor Walker, who had been tentatively selected for this duty, may be made the New York member of the committee on resolutions, which in the expected absence of serious contests in delegations promises to be the most important committee at the convention.

George R. Van Namee, who is heading Governor Smith's pre-convention campaign, has been eliminated from serious consideration for chairman of the national committee. The name of Senator Peter G. Gerry of Rhode Island has been suggested, but he has a campaign for reelection this year which he might feel will demand his attention. Raymond V. Ingersoll, who managed Smith's gubernatorial campaign in 1924, also has been suggested.

It has been virtually decided to have no floor managers in view of the expectation that Smith will go in to the convention with a large number of delegates. Mrs. Caroline O'Day, vice chairman of the state committee and a southerner by birth, is expected to be chairman of the New York delegation. Claude L. Bowers, an editorial writer for the New York Evening World, will probably receive the backing of the New York delegation for temporary chairman and Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas for permanent chairman.

LOSE CONTROL OF BUS ON PALISADES HILL.

Westhaver, N. J., April 30 (AP)—A Public Service bus got out of control going down the Palisades on Pershing road today and after a wild ride of 200 feet or more smashed a telegraph pole so hard the top of the bus was ripped off, glass and parts of the roof falling on nearly a score passengers, nine of whom were hurt. Six received hospital treatment.

Ambulance Calls Here.

Saturday the city ambulance removed Mrs. Myrtle Parker from the Benedictine Hospital to Elmendorf street and South Manor avenue, and Sunday Mrs. Mary Griffin was removed from 48 Hunter street to the City of Kingston Hospital.

New York Gives Warm Welcome To Fliers

Streets Aflutter With Ticket Tape, Shredded Telephone Directories and Waste Basket Debris Which Enthusiastic Citizens Dump Over Heads of Men Who Braved Death in Crossing Atlantic Ocean—Fliers Prefer it to Labrador Storms.

Eight Fliers Met Death on Sunday

Two Used Second-Hand Plane—Three Die Trying to Restore Muscular Hearing—Three Die in Tail Spin.

Elyria, Ohio, April 30 (AP)—An obsession for aviation which led them to fly a second-hand biplane purchased only two weeks ago was blamed today for the death of Gerald Miller, 19, and Myron Kelley, 21, both of Elyria.

The youths were killed when, at an altitude of about 200 feet, the plane went into a tail spin and crashed on a farm eight miles south of here yesterday. It was 20 minutes before the charred bodies were recovered.

Sought to Restore Hearing.

Eureka, Cal., April 30 (AP)—Three men are dead because a musician whose hearing was impaired believed an airplane dive from a great height would restore his ability to catch the lighter notes of an orchestra.

The musician persuaded an aviator and a fellow musician to attempt the dive here yesterday. An airplane wing which buckled as the flier tried to check the drop sent the trio hurtling 3,500 feet to earth. The plane burned before the bodies could be extricated.

The dead: William Spaleto, World War flier; Willard Winzel, 45, pianist and composer, whose hearing was defective, and Larry Beatty, friend of Winzel.

Plane Bursts Into Flames.

Denver, Colo., April 30 (AP)—A flaming airplane carried three men to their deaths here yesterday when H. E. Larue, Denver pilot, was unable to bring the ship out of a tail spin.

Larue was head of the Aircraft Transport Company here. The passengers were Loren Craven, Littleton, Colo., and Emil Dietrich, Brighton, Colo.

The plane went into a tail spin while banking at a height of about 200 feet and crashed in a cornfield. As it neared the ground it burst into flames.

TROOPERS DISCOVER DISTILLERY IN BARN

While searching for stolen property Friday at Warwick, Orange county, State Troopers N. V. Williams and J. Koellstedt of Middletown, discovered $10,000 worth of stills, tanks and rats in a barn on the property of Joseph Hagen, who disclaims knowledge of how the materials got into the barn. He claimed that he rented the cow-stable to an Italian, said to be a resident of Passaic, N. J., whose name he had forgotten.

It was while seeking two large tanks, stolen from the warehouse at Greenwood Lake, used by state police to store confiscated goods, that the troopers made the find and seizure of the materials said to be capable of producing 100 gallons of alcohol every 24 hours. Charges of grand larceny have been made against Charles Kelly, missing from his home on First street, Warwick, who owned the tanks before they were confiscated and later stolen.

FRANCE MAKES PARTIAL PAYMENT OF WAR DEBTS

Paris, April 30 (AP)—France will pay the United States Treasury $11,250,000 on her war debts June 15. The conditions of the payment agreed upon with Washington are the same as those of the provisional accord of March, 1927.

France also will pay England £8,000,000 in two installments. The amounts required by these payments already have been arranged for from receipts under the Dawes plan.

SPANISH WAR VETS WILL CELEBRATE SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon, May 5, the 39th anniversary of the leaving of Company M as volunteers for the Spanish War will be celebrated by the boys of '35. A reunion and banquet will be held at Torino's Inn on the South Ashokan boulevard. Cars will leave the local armory at 4 p. m. to convey the members to the scene of activities.

Explains Missionary's Slaying.

Shanghai, April 30 (AP)—A message received today from a Presbyterian missionary in southern Shan-tung, said that Dr. Walter F. Sherman, superintendent of the Presbyterian Hospital at Tsingtao, had been slain by soldiers of the Nationalist General Feng Yu-Hsiang when he tried to prevent them from entering the girls' dormitory.

New York, April 30 (AP)—Three transatlantic fliers from foreign shores were taken to the city's heart today and given a tumultuous welcome that left them breathless.

The occasion was the official welcome to Baron Gunther von Huenefeld, Captain Hermann Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice and it was a welcome in which all the city seemed to be participating.

After a triumphal tour of the harbor, during which the Irish airman, like a boy at play, amused himself by manipulating the city tug's stern in answer to the shrill salutes of a hundred flag decked craft, the fliers were led through the deep canyons of the lower city by 10,000 troops for their official welcome by the mayor.

A light rain fell upon the pageant but it was unheeded alike by the guests of honor and those who stood long hours for a chance to see and cheer them.

Greeted By Paper Blizzard.

The rain was light but a storm of another sort, the paper blizzard that New York stages for its heroes, raged unabated and the streets were ankle-deep with ticker tape.

The fliers party left the Ritz Carlton Hotel in 46th street at 10:20 and their appearance was greeted by a resounding cheer and an avalanche of paper from windows above.

The paper storm in this part of the city, where the more convenient ticker type of the financial district is not available, consisted largely of torn telephone books, the miscellaneous contents of waste baskets and thousands of paper drinking cups.

The fliers, though new clothes had been rushed to completion for them, wore the ones in which they flew the Atlantic and endured the hardships of their two weeks exile in the north. Major Fitzmaurice was jaunty in his Irish Free State uniform, Captain Koehl wore blue serge and a white uniform cap and the Baron, monoco fast in place, had a blue suit and a felt hat.

Harbor Craft Open Sirens.

The Macon was boarded at a mid-town pier and set forth to circle the Statue of Liberty among flag decked harbor craft that all seemed to have their sirens tied open for the duration of the festivities. At the battery 10,000 troops waited to escort the foreign heroes on their triumphal procession to the city hall.

Cheer Fliers' Families

While the fliers were receiving the marine welcome in the harbor the wives of Captain Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice and his young daughter, Patsy, arriving from Europe to take part in the celebration, landed at the Battery to be greeted by tumultuous cheers from the crowd waiting there.

The wives and little Patsy, aged 7, were driven to city hall along a Broadway already deep in ticker tape and lined by expectant crowds. They were bewildered by the noise and cheering and noticed with amusement that many of the stores and banking houses of the lower city had boarded up their windows to save them from the crush of welcomers.

The Parade Starts

As the Macon neared the Battery four airplanes droned overhead in an aerial escort and fireboats spouting water like gigantic whales led the way. Long before the Macon docked the soldiers and sailors, assembled to conduct the fliers the city through, began marching northward along Broadway, flags flying and bands blaring patriotic airs.

Just before noon the Macon docked and at that time police estimated the crowd in sight of pier A at 49,000. The cheer those thousands raised at first sight of the fliers rolled on up Broadway, lined solid with expectant throngs, and carried word ahead that the real welcome was about to start.

How Fliers Were Impressed.

The impression made upon the fliers themselves by the reception was best shown by their exclamations when they were at the Battery. "Ach, Himmel," cried the Baron. "Marvellous, too marvellous," said the Irish major.

Waiting for their husbands at city hall were the wives of Major Fitzmaurice and Captain Koehl and the major's seven year old daughter, Patsy, just landed from a liner from Europe.

Both women expressed great impatience to see their husbands, but in the meantime spoke with pride of their accomplishment. Both asserted that they would gladly fly back to Europe in the Bremen, but they felt quite sure their husbands wouldn't let them.

Patsy spent her time scanning the crowds for the face of her father.

Great Progress Made on City Hall Building

Only Minor Changes Will Be Made to the Exterior of the Building—Greatest Change in the Interior—Work to be Completed in Time Stated.

The average Kingstonian passing the City Hall Building during the past winter months has hardly realized the tremendous progress made towards the rehabilitation of the building, made possible, owing to the favorable open winter weather which the contractors have taken every advantage of.

One may have noticed various building materials stacked about, heaps of refuse as if rubbish from the fire were still being removed, and this was true to the extent of removing all wood work not already consumed by the fire to make way for replacing with new materials.

Perhaps the noisy grinding of a concrete mixer or the rattle of a rock drill did more to attract the attention of the passerby to observe that workmen really were busy and for the most part it would seem on the ground about the building while the gaunt walls stood windowless and roofless with the same desolate appearance, indicating little change since the day of the fire.

Now that the erection of the steel roof trusses and the framing of the mansard roof slopes are taking form, there is more activity and progress for the layman to observe, yet, in these past three months every piece of the old woodwork, pipes, ducts, cables and other obsolete appliances, including all old floor construction has been taken out room by room. These last have been replaced with structural steel girders and beams; around them a force of carpenters have built a labyrinth of timbering, making a false ceiling between these members.

As soon as the forms in a room or section of the building were complete, other trades followed, laying electric and telephone conduit, pipe ducts, etc., required to be concealed in the floors; other labor followed laying a reinforcing fabric over the whole and after them came men with barrows of concrete which was emptied into the various spaces, while helpers with shovels spread the plastic mass and others with poles grouted and tamped it into the various openings and crevices to insure its filling all voids around the steel work.

During the setting and hardening of the concrete, the top was covered thickly with salt hay and fires were kept burning under these floors to prevent the concrete from freezing. After several days all the false work so carefully and laboriously built up was ruthlessly torn away as it seemed, leaving the structural concrete floor free—self sustaining, with no iron work visible. In this way the three entire floors of the building have been replaced, anchoring and tying the old walls of the building in a manner more secure than ever before and now entirely fire-proof.

An area of approximately twenty-four thousand square feet of flooring has been installed, beside the building of several interior fire-proof vaults, the concrete stairs from the Tower entrance vestibule to the main floor, and progress has also been made in the outside foundation work for the broad terrace and steps at the Tower entrance to the building.

The alteration for the Power Plant in the Water Works Building has been practically completed and the boilers are now set in position with all main lines installed.

Most of the work described would not be observed except by one taking an interest in inspect and view progress on the site.

All structural steel for roof has been delivered on the site and the contractors expect to have this erected within a week when other crafts will follow immediately with the laying of the concrete roof slabs and then the finishing of the slate roofs, which materials are now at the site, so it may be seen that the major and important foundation work of this project is nearing completion for the interior work of plastering and finished floors.

To those who may not have understood the nature of the work of restoring the City Hall Building, it may be of interest to again state that there will be only minor changes in the exterior of the building, thus salvaging all main outside and interior structural walls. A marked change will be made at the main and side entrances and the top of Tower. The greatest change will be in the interior arrangement and finish of city offices and corridors. Here, all interior trim, base, doors, windows, partitions and stair will be constructed of strictly fire-proof materials with all modern appointments, which the architects have designed to harmonize with the architectural style of the building.

It is expected that the work will be completed within the time stated in the contract.

Report Shortage In Orange County

Investigators Say Motor Vehicle Plates Were Issued But Reported to Albany Office as Missing, or Not Reported at All.

Albany, April 29 (AP)—Shortage of $1,541.92 in the motor vehicle license funds of the Orange county clerk's office during 1926 and 1927 is indicated in a report filed with State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine today. The report was turned over to the Orange county district attorney, Elmer H. Leman, of Newburgh, by Mr. Tremaine "for such action" as the district attorney deems wise. Former County Clerk William B. Penoyer held office during the years in which the shortage occurred.

The shortage, said the report, was due to the issuance of license plates which either were reported as missing or not reported at all to the Albany bureau. The investigation was conducted by E. D. Wintersteen, of the bureau of revenue, Department of Audit and Control, and William D. Williams, an inspector of the motor vehicle bureau.

"Suspicion of irregularities in the Orange county office was occasioned by the discovery of a set of 1927 commercial plates in use which had not been covered by report or remittance to Albany," said the report.

An inventory of the 1927 plates on hand and the comparison with the records in Albany disclosed that the set of commercial plates was one of seven consecutive sets missing from the last assignment of commercial plates for 1927, or 356 numbers beyond the last commercial number sold for that year. The investigators found that the holder of the license under investigation had received two more sets of missing plates, they said.

A check of the 1928 plates disclosed twenty-eight missing plates, the investigators found, and a search was instituted in Middletown, Newburgh, Port Jervis, and surrounding territory. Thirteen sets were found in the course of the hunt. Four sets of pleasure vehicle plates also were found missing, said the investigators.

New York Welcomes Fliers

They were at once greeted by Mayor Walker, Mrs. Fitzmaurice and Patsy climbed onto a stenographer's table and Mrs. Kochl onto a chair for the first glimpse of the men they had not seen since they flew away on their perilous adventure.

As the aviators were shaking hands with the mayor the two pilots looked over his shoulder and smiled at the two women and the child who were throwing them kisses.

Fliers in High Spirits

The fliers were in high spirits as they drove up Broadway through the clamorous throngs which with difficulty were restrained from bursting into the street and blocking the parade.

Major Fitzmaurice craned upward at the towering structures of the financial district and grinned.

"Behold," he said, "the tall timbers of New York."

The baron asked what in the world could be wanted with all the pictures that had been taken of them on the Macom and during the ride to city hall.

"I guess they will put the plates in the Chamber of Commerce," he decided.

"Not so," said Captain Koehl in his precise English. "They will be put in the Chamber of Horrors."

PRIZE WINNERS AT ROSENDALE THEATRE

On Sunday evening there was presented at The Bijou Theatre in Rosendale a unique and remarkably attractive short act, put on by the seven young women who were the prize winners in the recent long-haired contest held in New York city, and their manager, George Boothby, former newspaper man and war correspondent during the World War, in which he won high honors.

Nor only were the young women possessed of marvelously beautiful tresses, but they were a group of exceptionally fine girls and their musical numbers, as well as Mr. Boothby's pleasing chat with the large audience, delighted all who were so fortunate as to attend the performance.

Preceding the performance the Rev. Francis M. O'Reilly entertained the girls and their chaperon and Mr. Boothby—"My War-time Buddy," as he introduced him—and a few Kingston guests, at dinner served in the lovely old English grill which is a part of this remarkable theatre.

Woodstock Has First Art Show

House Party at Blomsheld Home Saturday Night Attended by Many Celebrities—Art Exhibit a Huge Success.

(By F. G. Clough.)

Something new in the way of art exhibitions at Woodstock was inaugurated on Saturday, April 28, when Mr. and Mrs. John Blomsheld opened their large home near Woodstock village to the artists of the colony for an exhibition of paintings, drawings, sculpture and pottery.

The house party exhibit took the form of a dinner which was given by the hostess to a large group of celebrities in the art and literary world. Guests were present from New York city, Woodstock, and other art centers. Local accordion players furnished music for dancing after the dinner, which gave a real old-fashioned treat to the dancers, and succeeded in being sufficiently "different" to merit the wholesale approval of the one hundred guests during the evening's merry-making.

Among the guests prominent in art and social circles were Mr. and Mrs. Riccardo Betti of Rome, Italy; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Patterson, George Biddle, artist; Wortman, cartoonist; Forbes Watson, art editor; Julia McCarthy, New York World staff, and others.

One of the outstanding features of the exhibition was the showing of photographs by R. Bettini, court photographer for Italy. Mr. Bettini's photographs included portraits of Mussolini, the king and queen of Italy, R. Tagore, Charles E. Hughes, Mayor James J. Walker and Buenos Aires celebrities. Mr. Bettini has taken photographs of world leaders, and his work shows him to be an artist of the first rank.

The complete exhibition was a serious thing in that no jury, no hanging committee, sorted the canvases; the artists sent their best work; both conservatives and moderns were represented; more than a dozen pieces were done particularly for the Blomsheld house party exhibit. This meant that there were a number of paintings and drawings shown for the first time Saturday night. There was none of the formality, the awkward juxtaposition of canvases often evident in mixed gallery exhibits.

The drawing room, library, dining room and studios of the Blomsheld home were filled with the exhibit. Outstanding among the works shown were two drawings by Henry L. McFee, modernist in oils, who has proclaimed now that he has something new up his sleeve. Alfio Faggi, noted American sculptor, was present with two of his inimitable pieces of statuary. Carl Walters among the craftsmen present showed entirely new designs in pottery. Alexander Brook came up from New York with several new paintings which will surely give pseudo-moderns something to aim at for their future patterns. A. Dasburg was very much at the head of the list of moderns with a Taos landscape now owned by Mrs. Blomsheld. Among the leading conservatives was Birge Harrison with one of his exquisite still-lives. The healthy comparison of the two camps gave added interest to the exhibit which was hung with ostentatious carelessness but producing the effect of having been arranged by a master hand.

Among other Woodstockers present on the walls were Peggy Bacon, George Biddle, Rosella Hartman, Orville H. Peets, Arnold, Blanch and Ernest Fiene with black and whites; Paul Fiene with sculpture; Eugene Speicher, Charles Rosen, H. Gottlieb, J. Klutgaard, Allen D. Cochran, W. Goltz, H. Leith-Ross, H. Mattson, K. Hayes Miller, Marion Bullard, Cecil Chichester, Lucille Blanch, Reeves Brace, Charles Bateman, Arnold Blanch, Frank S. Chase, R. Wetterau, Nan Mason, Herman More, David Reasner, Gladys Reasner, Ruskin Williams, Nell Ives and Dorothy Gilbert with paintings.

When questioned about the idea of this unique showing of Woodstock art, Mr. and Mrs. Blomsheld stated that the artists were all ready to cooperate, that the idea had been a random one which had worked out so well that it would be repeated another year. The party and art show really commenced the social as well as the art season at Woodstock for 1928. John Blomsheld, who is an artist himself, modestly kept his own portrait drawings in his private studio, but a look at his work showed him to be in kin to talents to many of the celebrities whose work he took delight in presenting to his guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Blomsheld have recently returned from a world tour to twenty countries. They are planning to leave within a few weeks for a trip to Chicago, California, Pacific Islands, China and the Orient.

Bulgaria Again Shaken by Quakes

Isthmus of Corinth Also Suffers From Continued Disturbances—Miniature Craters and Lakes Appear—Populace Terrified.

Vienna, April 30 (AP)—Terror reigned today among the people of southeastern Bulgaria and the Isthmus of Corinth following continuance of the series of earthquake shocks that already had bereaved them and made them destitute.

Shocks in Bulgaria were accompanied in some instances by the sudden appearance of miniature craters and small lakes. These with the relentless and continuous shaking of the earth accompanied by terrifying subterranean roars kept a distraught, shelterless and half-naked population in a state bordering on madness.

The quake was accompanied by a violent hailstorm at Borisovgrad which was already laid waste by previous upheavals. The storm destroyed all remaining vestiges of vegetation and killed many cattle. Austrian scientists said the quakes were of tectonic character, involving the shifting of giant strata from vertical to horizontal. They thought that the tremors might extend to other parts of the Balkans which have been devastated by similar disturbances from prehistoric times.

Madame Paul Koundouriotis, wife of the President of Greece, went to Corinth to superintend relief work and is living in a tent there. Three Italian ships arrived with tents for the thousands of refugees.

Isthmus of Corinth Shaken.

Athens, April 30 (AP)—Continued earthquake shocks were felt on the Isthmus of Corinth today and soon the injured were being brought into Corinth where relief operations have been established.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 30, 1928.

One of the first things noticed by a child in rural southern Georgia is the drunken antics of robins when they drop to the ground after being intoxicated by the fermented juice of the chinaberry. And now we hear from the city forester of Wichita, Kansas, that the blue jay is often guilty of too great a fondness of the same berry. After imbibing in the leafy "blind tigers", he says, the blue jays "make unsteady flights to tree tops where they sway on the branches and challenge anything in the feathered family, eagles not excepted." What the enforcers of the Volstead act intend to do about it is not reported.

People were worried for a while about this being a "presidential year", and so presumably a bad business year, though records show little basis for such pessimistic tradition. Happily the sentiment is changing. The bull movement in stocks shows how great the change is. Securities would not be run up as they have been unless the buyers expected good times. It is evident that the public expects prosperity after election, if not before. And this expectation, be it noted, preceded even the presidential primaries. People don't know who's going to be elected—not even who's going to be nominated. But apparently it doesn't make a great deal of difference to them. They're satisfied that whoever is destined to be the next president, he won't hurt American prosperity.

Operatic stars are nothing if not superstitious. Metropolitan press agents vouch for these facts: Giuseppe di Luca fears more than two curtain calls, and spins on his heel after every extra one to take the curse off. Frederick Jägel carries a little gold dog in his pocket to protect him. Antonio Scotti kisses a picture of his father and mother every time he is about to sing. Lucrezia Bori and Rosa Ponselle carry religious pictures and statues with them, for good luck. And so it goes. Actors and artists in general are like children. Yet in their childishness we are all fortunate. The genius, someone has said, is such because he remains a child at heart. The rest of us stiffen into unimaginative maturity. Artists keep their plasticity, flexibility, everlasting youth and power to feel, imagine and represent.

WATERSHEDS.

At the trial of the Chicago water diversion case before the Supreme Court of the United States, one of the justices observed that if the War Department had the right to let Chicago take 10,000 cubic feet of water a second out of Lake Michigan, it had a right to let the city take 100,000 feet, or even empty the lake. The court will soon decide finally whether that sort of thing is permissible. Meanwhile the question, so far fought out between the states, is coming into an international phase. If this domestic decision allows Chicago, with or without federal permission, to lower lake levels against the protest of neighboring states, Canada will proceed to invoke international law and special treaty rights. The Dominion already declared to our government that "unless by joint consent, no permanent diversion should be permitted to another watershed from any watershed naturally tributary to the waters forming the boundary between two countries." It will doubtless continue to assert that principle. The issue may have to go to arbitration before it is settled.

DANGEROUS INDIFFERENCE.

A newspaper writer names indifference as the outstanding threat to the stability of our government. It is to him a more serious menace than any of the familiar bogaboos such as red propaganda and sex plays. It permits the "white lying and technical innocence" which are too often substituted in place of thorough honesty and fundamental right-doing. It hampers the process of justice—as in the oil trials—and "makes it possible for big boys to be tricky without losing caste."

A political old-timer who had considerable power 20 years ago tells an interviewer: "I think men kept their word better in the old days than they do today. People have got so they don't put any stress on their words. Today they promise more anything, and keep as little of it as they can. Today the younger element shrugs its shoulders and says, 'What's the difference?'

 If both these conditions are justified, the situation is truly serious. Yet one of the things often said in favor of modern youth, by people who should know, is that, whatever their faults, they are honest and straightforward. Perhaps their seeming indifference is not fundamental, but has been the result of wrong character-training by elders. The youngsters have been thrown overboard a good many times and hypocrites that used to infect this old world, in time, perhaps they will throw out this deadening indifference, too.

THE WORD "INDIGESTION."

I am often very sorry there is such a word as "indigestion" because it may cover so many conditions that folks are apt to treat it with indifference.

Now the occasional attack of indigestion, which often follows indiscretions in eating and drinking, is not what I have in mind, but that persistent everyday feeling of uneasiness, of pain, sometimes with nausea, with which many are afflicted.

In the younger folks we have in mind always the possibility of an ulcer of stomach or first part of small intestine, and in middle aged and older folks, the possibility of cancer of the stomach.

Now as cancer of the stomach accounts for one-third of the deaths listed as cancer, you can understand how some of these old chronic cases of "indigestion" turn out finally to be cancer.

Dr. Bloodgood of Johns Hopkins has pointed out that now that the public are being educated about the need of getting an early diagnosis of cancer, only about three per cent come in too late for operation, whereas before there was so much publicity, it was about 60 per cent.

Your family physician will tell you that at medical college he was taught that the outstanding symptoms of cancer of the stomach were nausea, vomiting, a peculiar color of the skin, the loss of weight. He was also taught the value of a test meal as an indication of how fast or how slowly the stomach was digesting its food, the amount of acid in the stomach juice, and so forth.

Fortunately the use of the X-ray and the barium meal, has taken away a great amount of uncertainty as to whether or not the patient has cancer of the stomach. In expert hands the X-ray will show the condition, if present, more than nine times in ten.

But what about the one time in ten when despite test breakfasts, blood examinations, tests for acid, mucus, microscopic and other tests, the physician and surgeon are still of the opinion that it may be cancer? No surgeon likes the idea of operating just "on a minute," but there are times when this operation "just to find out for sure" is justified.

And yet as Dr. Jos. Daly points out, the risk of the operation is not half so serious as waiting and waiting, because when the time arrives that the X-ray and other tests show definitely that it is cancer, it may be too late to operate, aside from the fact that the condition of the patient himself has been gradually getting worse.

So don't be alarmed if an operation is suggested. If not a cancer so much the better; if a cancer then be thankful that you did not wait for more definite symptoms.

Artificial Bird Houses

Wood is by all means the best material for bird houses. Metal should be avoided because it is a conductor of heat. In the choice of wood, an easily workable kind, such as cypress, pine or yellow poplar, is preferable for homemade bird houses. Cypress is the most durable of these. Sawmill waste—rough slabs with the bark on—furnishes cheap and satisfactory material for rustic houses.

Then a telephone call from Mix's attorney caused her to learn of the divorce. Now she is seeking to set aside the decree.

Ansora—When the Turkish school-boy learns his alphabet, next year, he will have only 26 characters with which to familiarize himself, instead of 95. ## Britain Sends Warships to Egypt

London, April 30 (AP).—Several British warships and cruisers sailed this morning from Malta for Egypt in connection with an Anglo-Egyptian pact which revolves around the Egyptian public assembly bill.

An ultimatum demanding the withdrawal of the bill within three days was handed the Egyptian government last night by the British.

The situation today was grave and fraught with serious possibilities although in official circles it was thought that the difficulties were not insurmountable and the sky might clear suddenly.

There was no effort however, to minimize the seriousness of the crisis.

It was stated that the British did not mention sanctions in their note to Egypt as a penalty for Egypt's refusal to comply, but in well-informed circles the opinion was expressed that sanctions would be applied if the Egyptians were obdurate.

It remained to be seen whether the sending of warships from Malta could be taken as a warning of such sanctions.

PENNSYLVANIA DIGGING OUT FROM HEAVY SNOWFALL

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30 (AP).—Normal conditions were being restored rapidly today in western and central Pennsylvania, which since Friday night has been buried under one of the heaviest snowfalls on record.

Nearly all of the highways, which had been blocked by huge drifts, were open, and most of the cities and towns, isolated when wires and poles snapped under the heavy loads of sleet and snow, again were in communication with the outside world.

Full wire service however, was not expected to be restored until later today to a number of cities. These points included Bellefonte, Williamsport, Altoona, Johnstown, Lewistown, Huntingdon, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, Lockhaven and Bloomsburg.

Telephone and telegraph repair crews, covering the storm area, reported that more than 700 poles had been torn down between Lancaster and Pittsburgh. They said they had found the snow from six to 24 inches deep on level stretches, and four to eight feet in drifts.

The Pennsylvania railroad, said that passenger train service had been restored to normal, but that wire communication over some of its lines was still badly crippled.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

Lanvin Suggests Princess Lines—and Adds Jabots To a Tailored Coat

At Right: One of Mme. Lanvin's Coat Fashions is Embodied in "The Valley," a Coat of Navy Ottoman Trimmed with White. The Sleeves Are Mounted Without Armholes, and Have a Seam Along the Top. The Collar of White Silk, More Heavily Ribbed Than the Navy, is Composed of Narrow Panels That Give a New Effect.

BEFLOWERED PARASOLS AND FLUTTERY PRINTED FROCKS ADD TO THE GAIETY OF MONTE CARLO BY DAY—EVENING GOWNS ARE VARIED, BUT RARELY BEADED.

Monte Carlo—How gay even the name sounds. How gay with flowers and sunshine, and with the charming toilettes of the women. It really is, especially in front of the palatial Casino of a Sunday when the smart world gathers for luncheon.

Just now all the world is strewn along the Riviera watching or participating in the battles of flowers and other festivities. Flowers are pictured in the frocks one sees and on the flat little sunshades it has become fashionable to carry. It is one's first glimpse of the glories revealed at the spring openings and one's first opportunity to judge of the relative values of this and that model as they are seen in action.

Prints are decidedly effective in this lovely land of Monaco, where even the policemen are in gaudy array. One carries about with one the impression that a printed dress to be really effective must be plentiful and have something of a fluttery quality about it, so that its design may be offset by soft drapery. Many of the skirts are tiered and produce a delightful indefinite effect, and most of the designs are unobtrusive. One cannot say as much for parasols, which are gaudy with color.

For evening, one finds little beading here or at Nice or Cannes. The preference is for the classic satin gown, for lace, and for the picturesque robe de style, and the graceful chiffons of Louiseboullanger. Some of these latter, like the gardens all about, are profusely flowered.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Long Swinging Cape Registers at Nice and is Often of Self Fabric with the Skirt.

Nice, France.—The long swinging cape, such as Lelong featured for sports, is certainly enjoying a decided vogue along the Riviera, yet it is not a type of garment possible for all.

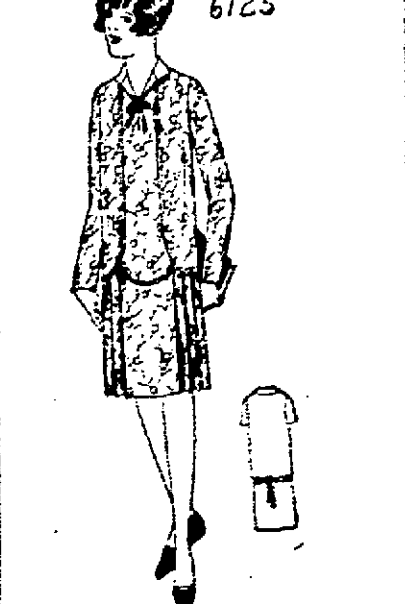

Beige and greige or gray continue to be the most approved colors for the sturdier stuffs used for sports and travel. In the case of the gray ensemble, the stockings are not always gray, but may remain in the generally approved tones, yet there is a tendency to revert to gray, in shoes as well.

Quite naturally, one sees fewer black shoes than in town, tans being the general choice for everything but an all-gray costume. Blue kid is frequently worn to complete a blue ensemble, and black suede and patent leather are accepted as the choice for the dressier moments of the day, although beige and champagne and gray kids or suedes are also worn.

No one is safe!

BODY ODOR...a problem all of us must face

Now...a simple way to keep safe

Body odor! The very mention of it repels! Yet not one of us is safe from body odor. We perspire constantly, or we'd die. Even on cool days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

Why take chances?

This body moisture, whether visible or invisible, is odorous. And no one escapes it. From society leader to ditch digger—we may all offend—unless we take precautions.

And often, we may be guilty—without realizing it. For, once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it—though it remains perfectly apparent to others.

Yet there is a simple way to be certain we are always safe. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it and more.

The time-blend and abundant antiseptic Lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores. To millions Lifebuoy also means a clear, fresh skin.

What a clean scent!

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clear scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, April 29 (AP).—Callahan Packing Corporation and subsidiary earned $3.52 a share in the first quarter of 1927, against $2.40 a share the year before. Net income declined to $3,429,455 from $4,000,000.

Superior Steel had net loss of $1,000,000 for the first quarter of 1927, against net loss of $35,015 in the quarter of 1927.

Earnings of the Canadian Pacific for the first quarter moved up $1,114,200 from $6,462,427 in 1927.

Westinghouse Air Brake earned 45 cents a share in the first quarter, against 55 cents a share in the first quarter of 1927. Net profits fell to $1,457,565 from $2,502,795.

Loadings of the Union Pacific are showing a consistent increase over last year, largely in grain and livestock, says Carl Gray, president. Shortage in the corn crop in the central states has aided the road materially. Crop conditions in its territory are favorable, the fruit crop in the northwest being very promising. The lumber business is still lagging in the northwest.

Net income of A. M. Byers Company for six months ended March 31, declined to $594,420 from $673,124 in the previous corresponding period. This is equal to $1.90 a share on the common against $3.03 a smaller amount of common outstanding a year ago.

Really, most of us need food prohibition worse than whiskey prohibition.

GIRL SCOUTS APPEALS REMAIN UNANSWERED.

Dear Mr. Editor:
I don't believe the people of our town always realize the embarrassment that they thrust upon someone—or perhaps I better say, allow someone to assume, when they leave those modest appeals on their desks sometimes for weeks at a time before they finally do the thing they are going to do, but don't do it NOW.

This isn't just the way, Mr. Editor, that a literary man should show his journalistic style, but you see, I am not a literary man and the laws of journalism have never cramped my style. I am one of those hundreds and hundreds of people in Ulster county to whom the Girl Scouts, Inc., of the Ulster County Council sent out an appeal some weeks ago, asking for a dollar (or two or five or possibly ten) to help carry on the greatest work in our old county—"The greatest work," I think, because it affects the future womanhood of Ulster. On my desk right in front of me is a letter courteously and earnestly asking for a dollar (or more if I insist) to help carry on the organization that is doing so much to make our girls healthy and clean, interested in home life, in household decoration, in appropriate dress, in homely virtues. I can get rid of the letter the way I do with many appeals, but here beside the letter is a stamped addressed envelope half hidden by some bills I mean to pay May first, and some communications I should have answered April first. I can't throw it away. It requires an enclosure of some sort. And there are hundreds of these envelopes lying around among unpaid bills—I mean unanswered letters—on hundreds of desks in this county.

Can't one of your literary fellows around the office there write a real smart editorial in true journalistic style showing these good people how they can get rid of the embarrassment of having that yellow envelope with Girl Scouts, Inc., Ulster County Council each day smilingly but persistently say: "Come on, friend, give a cent a year (your annual contribution) to help an Ulster county kiddie grow up to be the woman she wants to be—give a dollar to help a hundred. You'll be a dollar richer. Oh, come on, stick a dollar in that envelope, and get it off your desk. Believe yourself of that embarrassment and relieve that anxious committee of the embarrassment of awaiting the return of that return envelope."

A FRIEND OF THE G. S.
P. S.—Mr. Editor: If your boys are all busy you can mark this article "Contributed," you know, and no one will blame you for publishing it just as it is.

FRENCH SPURNED CHANGE TO BE FIRST WITH SUBMARINE

Letter Written by Robert Fulton to French Minister Tels of Opportunity.

Paris.—That Robert Fulton, in view of the first submarine proposed to construct a submarine navy to sail for the French navy in 1801 and that Napoleon passed up the chance of developing the powerful submarine weapons that might have changed his destiny by wresting control of the seas from Britain, is proven by the discovery of a letter written by Fulton to the French minister of marine, which has just been found in the archives of the ministry in Paris.

Fulton's letter is dated from Brest, May 26, 1801, where he was carrying out experiments with his submarine Nautilus and a torpedo of his invention. Fulton explained that he was ready to torpedo a ship at anchor, "providing that it is not farther away from land than a league or a league and a half," but that he desired to construct a "mechanical boat" to accompany his "little plunger" in order to "pursue the enemy by night in the open sea."

The Nautilus was a tiny craft, propelled by a hand screw, and able to remain submerged four hours. Its field of action was therefore limited, but Fulton argued that if he could carry it on his steamboat, which would be able to follow a hostile fleet to its anchorage while keeping just out of range of its guns and lower it over the side in the night, he could do great execution with it among the defenseless big ships in a few hours.

Numerous incidents in the great war prove that his calculations in this respect were correct. However, although the French government subsidized his experiments for a time, the naval experts of republican France were not impressed by his plans and Napoleon, then first consul, was too much engrossed by other military and political projects to devote as opportunity that would probably have enabled him to surprise and defeat Britain at the sea, and that would have ended the entire career of his war.

Bark or No Bark, Cops Learn Dogfish Bites

Patrolman Craig learned a lesson of the Boston police department, and especially that the dogfish, the fishman Guy Craig have discovered that dogfish eat a lot.

Patrolman Craig learned this lesson out of his two pocket at the cost of 50 cents.

The squad to which he belongs recently learned that a dogfish can be made a pet, as is the specimen in a tank at headquarters. But as the seaside world knows, the squid is engaged on a serious undertaking namely, to determine whether a dogfish barks every time there is a full moon. Chance dainties have been fed to the fish to keep it full of vim and vigor until a new moon should arrive.

But a dogfish, Patrolman Craig reasoned sagely, can no easier live by bread alone than man, but needs milk and companionship, age, and sense sometimes. So he bought three goldfish as pets for the dogfish.

The next morning a grim tragedy came to light. The dogfish had eaten two of its little playmates and devoured the funeral of the third, which had to be killed.

New York, April 30 (AP).—Marking up on the call money rate from 5 to 6 per cent checked a sharp upswing in prices in today's stock market. Oils were again in the vanguard of the advance, climbing
1 to 19 points with about a score of issues touching new peak prices.
Rails were inclined to heaviness, although Delaware and Hudson ran up 5 points in the early trading.
Special strength also was apparent in such stocks as American Bank
Note, Brooklyn Edison, Coca Cola, Underwood, Elliott, Wright Aeronautical, Electric Auto Lite and American Water Works.

The machine is virtually as good as famously known as "Aunt Helen," to all relatives or friends. She was an acknowledged authority on everything connected with the town and community history, having spent all her life in the vicinity. She was, however, best known for her sterling

Christian character and for a consecration to the church of her choice, rarely surpassed. She was treasurer of Christ's Lutheran Church for forty years and was equally efficient in every other line of church work.
She died in her eighty-third year.

Francis X. Fitzpatrick of St. Mary's Church as subdeacon. The responses offertory "Pie Jesu" was sung by Mr.

LaTour and at the conclusion of the

St. Paul Lutheran Church Dedicated

Large Audience Attends Services Sunday Morning and Evening
In New Edifice—Services Continue This Week.

The official dedication of St. Paul Lutheran Church took place Sunday morning before a large audience. The pastor, congregation and officers of the church assembled in the Bible school assembly room beneath the church and proceeded to the front doors where the dedication forms were read by the pastor and the congregation joined in the singing of a hymn of praise.

As the members walked into the church they were led by the pastor, the Rev. Prof. George A. Romoser, father of the pastor, the Rev. R. E. Romoser of New York City and the pastor, the Rev. Carl A. Romoser. The elders of the church C. Andres, M. J. Schantz and Edward Weber, carried the Bibles and communion vessels, and these they deposited on the Bible reading stand, the pulpit and altar.

The Rev. Dr. Romoser of Bronxville, Concordia College Institute then delivered the dedicatory sermon in which he spoke of the character and mission of a Christian Lutheran congregation.

At the evening service the Rev. August Koerber of New York spoke on the power of the Christian church down the ages. He said in part: A dedication service of this kind is not merely outstanding and interesting facts that mark certain events in the history of Christian congregations as a body and also individually and as you think back upon this day of dedication, the true significance and the true value of this occasion will be more than lost if you are ready to accept it as a sort of milestone in the history of your church life. If anything, it ought to mean a dedication or rededication of heart and soul to Him who has given you the willingness to devise and plan the building of this church.

Have you ever sat down to think what this world would be without institutions of the Christian church? Millions and millions bow down in reverence year in and year out to the name of Jesus Christ, and every notable man, you will note, has followed in the footsteps of Christ—doing the right thing. Had Christ not left behind him a Christian church, then men would hardly know that such a man ever lived in Palatine—that is the tremendous importance of the Christian church to perpetuate the memory of Him and who men have lived to receive and love as their Lord and Savior. There are so many people who have gone so far as to say that there are as many Christians outside as there are inside. When Jesus Christ looks upon the world, He looks upon it as belonging to Him, as a debt which He might rightfully claim and every individual soul He looks upon as His very own. Jesus wished absolutely no one to be excluded from the folds of His Church. In the Epistle of the New Testament not one apostle contemplated anyone standing apart from the Christian church.

Now if the day of dedication has any meaning at all, it also has this—may you resolve that with God's help you are going to love His church more—going to labor for this church more—to retain the Christian fellowship—to quell hatred, envy, smallness. You are going to strive to the very highest, with the ability that God has given to you, that this church be a church dedicated unto God—that people may point their finger to you and say, "He is a steadfast follower of Christ."

In the morning special anthems were rendered and most favorably received by the congregation and friends. Mrs. H. La Tour sang the solo parts assisted by Miss Marquart, Miss Kolts, A. Salzmann and Carl Will. In the evening the choir was assisted by Herman La Tour and Harry Clearwater.

The dedication services continue this week with a recital this evening by W. Whiting Frederburgh and an address by the pastor on the ministry of music. On Thursday there will be a neighborhood service for the congregation and all neighbors and friends. The Rev. Frank Jens of New York, a very forceful speaker and a man who has successfully built a large church from the ranks of non-church goers in a metropolitan section of New Jersey, will speak.
